Temple B'nai Chaim (TBC) Members Contribute to Women of Reform Judaism Northeast District (WRJNE)

Sharon Sobel, a long time member of Temple B'nai Chaim (TBC) in Georgetown CT, has been installed as President of the Women of Reform Judaism Northeast District (WRJNE). Sharon has been an active member of the Northeast Region of WRJ and has served as First Vice President for the past two years. Sharon also serves as co-President of Temple B'nai Chaim's Sisterhood. In addition to these duties, Sharon finds the time to teach at UConn Stamford and at Norwalk Community College and is the author of several novels.

TBC members are very active in WRJNE. Other TBC honorees include Bonnie Heft, who was installed as Area Director, Cantor Harriet Dunkerley who conducted the Havdalah service following installation and Professor Deborah List (Fairfield University) who conducted a seminar entitled "Having Difficult Conversations : How to Move from Divisiveness to Communication." In addition, Valerie West-Rosenthal, another TBC member, designed the logo that appeared throughout the convention, illustrating the theme of the event: "Celebrating our Stories."
